

Cachet Prescott, Air Force Spouse and Former Army “Brat”

Education Liaison Volunteer, MSCCN

Air Force spouse, Cachet Prescott, is no stranger to life in the military. While her father served in the military, she experienced life as an Army brat. Cachet now works as a Campus Center Director and Adjunct Faculty member at Park University. She began her career working as the Coordinator of Multicultural Recruitment and Senior Admissions Counselor at Fairfield University in Connecticut. While at Fairfield, Cachet obtained her MA in Applied Psychology with a concentration in Industrial / Organizational / Personnel Psychology. After three years, she left Fairfield University to continue her education pursuits and completed an MA in Sociology at the University of Georgia. During her time at UGA, Cachet continued her work in academia as a Teaching Assistant and tutor in Sociology and Psychology classes and a Graduate Assistant and Program Coordinator of the Peach State Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (PSLSAMP) program. After leaving UGA, she became an adjunct instructor in Sociology and Psychology course with Park University while stationed at Malmstrom AFB in Montana.

Cachet joined the MSCCN volunteer team as the Education Liaison in August 2009. As a military spouse herself, Cachet understands the importance of education in relation to career pursuits and the need for clear and concise information on educational issues and opportunities for our special population. She will contribute articles and provide information addressing these subjects and others and is available to answer higher education-related questions.

Cachet is currently pursuing her BS in Management/Human Resources. With her academic background and experience in Employee Benefits, Employee Relations, Organizational Development, Recruitment, and Training and Development, she is embarking upon her fledging consulting career. She and her husband, William, are stationed at Vandenberg AFB in California and have a beautiful, one year old daughter named Sarai.

Cachet is excited about joining the MSCCN team and looks forward to helping the organization fulfill its important mission.
