

D. EDWARD GREENE

Edward Greene is a Director in the credit risk management division of Freddie Mac, located in McLean, VA. In his current capacity he is responsible for providing risk management advisory services for the world's second largest multifamily loan portfolio. Prior to joining Freddie Mac, Mr. Greene was a Managing Director and Deputy Chief Underwriter with Greystone Servicing Corp., a financial services and trading company, located in Bethesda, MD. In that capacity he successfully negotiated and closed over $850 million in financings, helping the company become one of the largest and fastest growing companies within its market niche.

Prior to joining Greystone Servicing Corp., Mr. Greene was a Vice President with Red Capital Group, Inc., a financial services company engaged in real estate investment, merchant, and mortgage banking located in Reston, VA. In that capacity, he was responsible for structuring and underwriting conventional, affordable, assisted living, and senior housing transactions nationwide. While at Red Capital Group, Mr. Greene structured over $800 million in real estate transactions and received special recognition for transactions awarded the "investment banking" and "mortgage banking" deals of the year accolades.

Prior to Red Capital Group, Inc., Mr. Greene was a Director with Cushman & Wakefield in Washington, DC. In that capacity he provided financial advisory services to public and private sector clients. Highlights of some of his engagements include serving as a financial advisor to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the U.S. Treasury Department, U.S. Small Business Administration, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in transactions totaling more than $1.2 billion.

Prior to Cushman & Wakefield, Mr. Greene worked in corporate finance positions with Wells Fargo Bank, Bank One/First Chicago NBD and PNC Bank. Before entering the financial services industry, Mr. Greene worked as an Associate in the Buffalo, NY based law firm of Hodgson, Russ, Andrews, Woods and Goodyear, specializing in general business, real estate and bond transactions.

Mr. Greene received his BA in Psychology from Fordham University, his JD from Albany Law School of Union University, his MBA in Finance from Clark Atlanta University, and his Executive Masters in Leadership from Georgetown University.

In addition to his professional experience, Mr. Greene also serves as Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Robert Pierre Johnson Housing Development Corporation, a non-profit organization dedicated to providing and maintaining affordable housing in the Washington, DC metropolitan area.