Military Spouse Corporate Career Network

Who We Are – What We Do – Why We Are Unique

MSCCN is a unique 501 (c)(3) nonprofit designed to match job-ready military-affiliated applicants with employment opportunities offered by military-friendly employers. The organization also educates and retrain applicants on job skills needed to secure employment. There is no charge to military-affiliated applicants for MSCCN services.

- o MSCCN Team Members are military-affiliated and understand the military lifestyle.
- o MSCCN works with military family centers, applicants, and employers.
- o MSCCN uses a variety of methods for outreach. Contact is through referrals, military family centers, virtual and on-installation workshops, articles and publications, and an informative website with an applicant tracking system.
- o MSCCN delivers seminars on military installations and online including: Thinking Outside of the Box, Volunteer to Career, Keys to Success, and Work-at-Home Jobs – Are They Right for You?
- o MSCCN hosts virtual job fairs to introduce applicants to employment partners.
- o MSCCN takes pride in screening all applicants for military affiliation.

Personalized Service

MSCCN's personal service is the cornerstone of our success. Combining "high touch" with a "high tech" database provides extended, personalized communication through all stages of the employment cycle.

Background

Started in 2004 by a Navy spouse, the Military Spouse Corporate Career Network (MSCCN) has grown in its mission and success in five years. Our organization operates as a liaison with military family centers, employers, other military resources, and the military community. MSCCN is proud of the MOUs with all Armed Forces Branches.

Ready to Serve

MSCCN primarily operates on funding provided through sponsorships, donations from employers, individuals, and grants. MSCCN is CCR registered to operate as a contractor on a government contract.
