

Milly Eminger – Jacksonville, FL Outreach Volunteer
Navy Spouse

Milly Eminger was born in New York and currently lives in Jacksonville, FL with her Navy spouse of 28 years, two teenagers, and a puppy named Lola. Her favorite thing to do when she is not in her garden or digital scrapbooking is volunteer work with MSCCN. Milly states, “The best thing about being a volunteer is that I teach people what I need to learn while gaining experience in the training and development field.” She enjoys attending job fairs, networking clubs and job search workshops. Milly has a strong background in Customer Service Sales and is transitioning into the training and development field. To support her career goals she will graduate from Southern Illinois University December 11, 2010 with a B.S. degree in Education. Also, she is a member of the American Society of Training and Development (ASTD) nationally and locally.
