

John DiPiero,

CASY-MSCCN ADVISOR

John is a 29-year veteran of the Air Force and Texas resident for many years. During his Air Force career, he spent most of his time in the training and education business. He was a pilot and amassed over 3,500 hours in both helicopter and fixed wing jet aircraft, and retired in the rank of colonel. John began his career at USAA in military marketing. He then moved to military recruiting focused on veteran and spouse hiring for USAA. John is now in Military Affairs as part of the Military Advocacy Group where he is focused on influencer engagement and advocacy in the veteran and spouse transition space. John received his undergraduate degree from Southwest Texas State University (now Texas State) and his masters from the University of Oklahoma. He also attended numerous military schools, including Squadron Officer School, Air Command and Staff College, Air War College and numerous flying training programs in a number of different aircraft.

John is currently a Military Advocacy Director in Military Affairs for USAA.
