John McArthur

Senior Partner and
Chief Investment Officer
Krilogy Financial

Prior to joining Krilogy Financial as Senior Partner and Chief Investment Officer, John M. McArthur developed his skills in Wealth Management and Financial Planning during his 6 year tenure at A.G. Edwards & Sons in Frontenac, MO and over 5 years spent at Morgan Stanley Smith Barney in Chesterfield, MO. While with Transamerica in Los Angeles, he received a Personal Financial Planning designation from UCLA and has been named a 5 Star Wealth Manager by St. Louis Magazine on four separate occasions. John is pursuing his CIMA Designation through the Investment Management Consulting Association.

John takes pride in being able to bring a high level of non-traditional wealth management strategies, combined with a broad array of experience and a great depth of resources, to clients. Having a passion for working with people, he enjoys uncovering his clients' specific financial needs and objectives, and develops a customized plan for them, utilizing Krilogy's vast resources and independence. John puts great emphasis on continually monitoring and tracking progress so that there is mutual accountability between himself and those that he works with.

Tradition is important to John, which he carries from his personal and family values and his high school background at St. Louis University High. John was an Academic All-American at the University of Missouri where he quarterbacked alongside Krilogy Founder/Partner Kent Skornia and later graduated and played at Northwestern University. He recognizes the importance of responsibility, commitment, and leadership in partnering with clients to help guide them to and through retirement.
